Dovetail's "90 Days to Launch" Outsourcing Program Expands

Dovetail enters a Strategic Remarketing Agreement with Duck Creek Technologies

Columbia, SC, June, 1, 2010 - Dovetail Insurance Corporation, an insurance industry services provider, announced today that they have entered into an agreement with Duck Creek Technologies, a leading provider of software and services to the insurance industry, to sell Dovetail outsourcing capabilities to the insurance market.

"Today, Dovetail delivers our back office insurance services using Duck Creek's policy administration and billing platform which makes this agreement the natural progression of an already strong working relationship," stated Steve Francis, President and CEO, of Dovetail Insurance.

"Dovetail offers our clients an alternative to managing systems in-house and provides customers looking for an outsourcing solution with a single, integrated solution that will get customers into production in an average of ninety (90) days instead of months. Through their service organization Dovetail is able to provide an entire insurance back office for operating everything from a complex virtual insurance company environment to individual insurance programs. This agreement underscores our commitment to deliver the best mix of services to our customers and provides them with another compelling reason to do business with us," said Steve Hall, President and CEO of Duck Creek Technologies.
